

CARITAS

Human rights belong to everybody. Every human right is important for human beings to live and grow. Read through the human rights below and think about why they are important.

Right to life	Right to a fair trial	Right to express your views and opinions	Right to enjoy your belongings
Right not to be tortured or treated in a way which is cruel or intimidating	Right not to be punished for something if your action wasn't against the law when you did it	Right to get together with people in a peaceful way and join a trade union	Right to an education
Right not to be required to do forced labour and not to be treated as a slave	Right to respect for private and family life, your home, letters, emails and phone calls	Right to marry and have a family	Right to vote in elections once you reach the voting age
Right to liberty (freedom) and security (protection)	Right to have your own thoughts, beliefs and religion	Right not to be treated unfairly in the enjoyment of your rights because of your age, race, religion, sex, disability or any other status	Right not to be sentenced to death for any crime

Right to life (Article 2)	Right to a fair trial (Article 6)	Freedom of expression (Article 10)	Protection of property (Article 1 of Protocol 1)
Prohibition of torture (Article 3)	No punishment without law (Article 7)	Freedom of assembly and association (Article 11)	Right to education (Article 2 of Protocol 1)
Prohibition of slavery and forced labour (Article 4)	Right to respect for private and family life (Article 8)	Right to marry (Article 12)	Right to free elections (Article 3 of Protocol 1)
Right to liberty and security (Article 5)	Freedom of thought, conscience and religion (Article 9)	Prohibition of discrimination (Article 14)	Abolition of the death penalty (Article 1 of Protocol 6)